Fees or expenses

Pāua Wealth Management will charge a fee for the financial advice that is provided to you. The fee charged will depend on the value of funds invested, the nature of the financial advice and the service(s) that we provide. This fee covers advice, ongoing portfolio management and custodian fees. Fees are typically charged monthly in arrears and deducted from the client's cash management account.

Depending on the type of portfolio that we tailor for you, there may also be external fees, such as fund manager fees, performance fees, brokerage and transaction costs. These fees are paid directly to the external parties i.e., the relevant fund managers and brokers. We do not receive any of these external fees, nor do we make a margin on them. These fees are deducted directly from the client's account. These external fees do not form part of Pāua Wealth Management's fees.

Any fund manager fees will depend on the allocation to each fund manager within your portfolio. This fee is deducted by the respective fund manager prior to the net return of the fund and may include buy/sell spreads. All fund manager rebates are paid directly into the client's account.

Portfolio reviews or other services may incur a one-off fee, which is to be paid within 7 days of the receipt of an invoice.

The fees we charge will be agreed to prior to the retention of our services.
